

SKYGONE

Solutions for Independent Software Vendors (ISV)

Instantly and securely deliver your software to customers as a turnkey ready-to-use solution

“The true power of Skygone Cloud lays in it’s ability to template entire enterprise deployments and allow you to deliver your software to customers easily, securely, and more efficiently than ever before.”

A major challenge for an Independent Software Vendor is assuring new clients have the necessary computing resources and technical expertise not only to install your software, but to configure the infrastructure properly. Skygone Cloud provides preconfigured Cloud-based infrastructure, creates templates of your software, installs the software within the proper operating system, and enables users to deploy the environment on demand. This revolutionary technology ensures proper configuration, ease of installation, instant deployment, and removes the requirement for a client to purchase new hardware.

Let Skygone’s Cloud computing experts help you decide if instant deployment of your software on preconfigured servers is right for you.

Skygone offers 24/7/365 support from our professional cloud application architects. Ensuring that you are never alone when you need help the most with your business critical infrastructure and applications.
